

WILLIAM

BUNGUS

Created By Simon Knowles

EPISODE SYNOPSIS

TERIYAKI TERROR

Billy decides to bring some food to Bungusland to show his friends what he likes to eat but something strange happens to it as it is transported and soon Bungusland is facing a major catastrophe.

Billy & sea Cucumber girl are sat in the mayors office, he is being read a list of weird things for him to approve while he dis interestedly lays back with his feet on the desk. His tummy rumbles loudly. He says he is finding it hard to concentrate and ask them what they have to eat around here. Gastronaut takes him to Bungus burger, a popular restaurant.

The three head down there and it is a fast food place...he orders a Bungus burger and licks his lips in anticipation but when he bites it, green slime sprays out and he finds it disgusting. His friends are disappointed and then he says he has to go to work.

We see Billy at work whistling while he is busy scrubbing dishes... suddenly his boss proclaims he has made a break through and asks him into his office. Laid out on his desk is some Sushi that his boss has just invented called 'Pepperoni Tempura Teriyaki Linguine Wasabi Roll' he likes it and asks if can take some to try on his friends.

We see Billy getting in the shower with a tray of this new sushi covered with a metal lid, he turns on the shower and washes himself down the drain pipe. He arrives in his office ready to surprise his friends who all gather around (Prawn Paul, Gastronom and Sea Cucumber Girl) after a grand introduction he pulls off the lid but the sushi rolls have now got little legs and are crawling around. They all peer at them suspiciously, confused. Gastronom picks one up and it bites him, he drops it. They all agree it is very weird, Billy wonders who they can ask about what has happened and Prawn Paul suggests going to see the Deli Llama, he knows about everything so Billy and Sea Cucumber Girl set off leaving Gastronom and Prawn Paul watching the mutant sushi.

Billy and Sea Cucumber Girl find the address, an ancient and run down Deli in down town Bungusland. They enter and find a Llama meditating behind the counter, a sign says to take a number so they do and wait patiently, when their number appears they tell the Deli Llama about the sushi and he says that food does not travel well down the pipe and he should get them back up the pipe as soon as possible...before it is too late.

'Too late for what...?' Billy says. Just at that moment his phone rings, he answers, it is Prawn Paul: 'Erm.... Billy, we have a small problem....'

'What is it...?' Billy asks.

Camera pulls to show Prawn Paul is in the hand of a giant Sushi monster...he says 'well actually it is kind of a BIG problem'.

Billy and Sea Cucumber Girl rush outside and see the four sushi rolls have grown gigantic and are rampaging down town. They rush over and Gastronaut and Neck Boy are staring up at the creatures slack jawed. They are all wondering what to do as people run and flee. Billy sighs there is only one person who can help them and he calls 'Crazy Professor'. He is belligerent and says why should he help them? Eventually, he concedes on the grounds that if he can stop them he will be Mayor of Bungusland. With no other option, Billy accepts and soon the Robo Walrus appears with Crazy Professor at its side. Robo Walrus starts blasting them with its laser and the Sushi monsters are frightened at first, but then one of them grabs a piece of wasabi off itself and hurls it at Robo Walrus. It hits him in his face and he licks his lips to taste it. The wasabi is so spicy that his head explodes. Crazy professor comes up to Billy and says 'you're on your own...good luck'.

The sushi monsters start baring down on him and Sea Cucumber Girl.....and they get emotional like this is their last moment together. Just when all hope seems lost the Lobsquitch appears....letting out a huge Screech.

Everyone looks relieved as The Lobsquitch battles the sushi monsters and squeezes them back up the drain pipe before wandering off. Everyone breaths a huge sigh...safe at last.

Billy turns up at work, a little shaken by his experience when his boss calls him into the office and asks him to try another new sushi he has invented. He pulls off the lid to reveal scary looking sushi, Billy screams and runs away. His boss is bewildered and pops one his mouth remarking 'Strange boy'.

EPISODE ENDS CREDITS ROLL

